Opportunities abound for all high school juniors and seniors at Exploring Engineering, a free event offered by the Women in Engineering Program to pique interest in engineering.

- Design a schedule with unique engineering sessions, a residential tour or an academic campus tour.
- Soak up knowledge from alumni in industry, eager to answer any question.
- Connect with current students to get the scoop about life in Purdue University's College of Engineering.
- Learn nitty gritty details from the Office of Admissions, Office of Future Engineers and academic departments.

Participants, whose parents and guardians are welcome to attend, can come for a "meet and greet" on Oct. 19 to speak directly with staff and engineering students from various engineering majors, programs and clubs.
