Personal Financial Responsibility addresses the identification and management of personal financial resources to meet the financial needs and wants of individuals and families, considering a broad range of economic, social, cultural, technological, environmental, and maintenance factors. This course helps students build skills in financial responsibility and decision-making; analyze personal standards, needs, wants, and goals; identify sources of income, savings, and investing; understand banking, budgeting, record-keeping; and manage risk, insurance, and credit card debt. Direct, concrete applications of mathematics proficiencies in projects are encouraged.

Summer School Student Guidelines

Student Code of Conduct

All students are expected to uphold the dignity of the human person and behave accordingly. Any action that violates that dignity will be considered outside the appropriate code of conduct and will result in consequences as directed by the administration of the school. The code of conduct applies to all school activities, on or off property, or while traveling to or from school or school activities.

In addition, a student committing an act that violates Indiana or federal law at any time or place may be suspended or expelled if the unlawful act is directed toward a school employee or student, arises out of a school relationship, or has caused and can be predicted to cause in-school consequences.

Failing to comply with the directions of teachers or other school personnel during any period of time is not accepted. Students must completely and truthfully respond to questions from a staff member regarding school-related matters, including potential violations of the student conduct rules or state or federal law.

Additionally, any action that is contradictory to the mission of the school, the Catholic Church, or its community at large will result in consequences as directed by the administration of the school.

Please read the following document regarding our Responsible Use Policy.

Attendance Information

Students are allowed no more than one absence. The vast majority of course content is delivered during class time. Consistent attendance in summer school is critical for academic success. Students are required to be in attendance for the first two days and the last two days of summer school.

Experience and research have proven a direct relationship between attendance and academic excellence. Bishop Chatard considers attendance an important matter. Parents must communicate proactively with the school about student attendance.

To report an absence:

The parent/guardian should email your child's summer school teacher prior to 11:30 am on the day the student will not be in school. Include the information listed below.

- The parent's/guardian's name;

- The name of the student;
- Whether the student will be late, absent, or dismissed early;
- The reason for the late arrival, absence, or early dismissal;
- A telephone number where the parent may be reached

Notification: If the teacher does not receive an email from a parent or guardian by 11:30 a.m., the teacher and/or administration will contact the parent or guardian.

The student is responsible for making up work during the absence. The student must contact his or her teacher and submit the missed work within the established time frame. A general guideline is that a student will have one class meeting to do makeup work for each class meeting he or she is absent.

Dress Code for Summer School

Students are not required to wear the standard Bishop Chatard school uniform. Shorts and T-shirts are acceptable. Students are expected to dress and carry themselves in a manner that upholds their dignity as children of God. Please avoid the following: excessively short shorts, spandex shorts, or visible sports bras. Sandals are acceptable.

To promote a safe, unobstructed environment, encourage self-discipline and organization, and control food and drinks in the classrooms, small bags may be brought to school. All students are asked to come to school on the first day of summer school with a pencil. Any additional materials will be requested by the summer school teacher on the first day of school.

Grading Scale

All students will receive a course syllabus on the first day of summer school. All grades will be mailed home within two weeks of the end of the summer session. All grades will be based on the following scale:
